Private Tour with Car: Tour of the West Bank

- Meeting Time: 7:00AM
- Meeting Point: Sofitel Winter Palace Luxor

Description: Get ready to uncover the mysteries of Luxor's West Bank as you explore the history and culture of Ancient Egypt accompanied by an Egyptologist. Your first stop of the day will be the majestic Valley of the Kings. It is a collection of rock-cut burial tombs of new kingdom pharaohs and privileged nobles, containing a total of 63 tombs and chambers decorated with colorful scenes of ancient Egyptian mythology, beliefs, and funerary rituals. You will start your in-depth discovery with the tomb KV2 tomb that belonged to the pharaoh Ramses IV. Given that his rule lasted only six years until his untimely death, the tomb was never completed so the pillared hall was converted into a burial chamber. Since it was built during the economic decline of Egypt, his tomb is highly simplistic, and unique in many ways. Your next point of interest is the tomb KV6 or the tomb of Ramses IX. The decorative theme for this tomb begins with the king's adoration of the sun disk, accompanied by Isis and Nephthys on the lintel over the entrance. Variations of this are also found on the door lintels of the second and third corridors. The art in this tomb is similar to that of Ramesses VI, though here, the first two corridors have passages from the Litanies of Re, rather than the Book of Gates. You will continue then to tomb KV11 which belonged to Ramses III whose sarcophagus is now in the Louvre. The resting place of the last of Egypt's warrior pharaohs is one of the most popular in the valley and it continues deep into the mountain opening into a magnificent eight-pillared burial chamber.

You will then continue to the tomb KV62, probably the most famous one of them all since it belonged to Tutankhamun or King Tut. Egyptologist Howard Carter toiled for six seasons in the valley until he was rewarded with the discovery of the resting place of Tutankhamun, with all its treasures, the most impressive haul ever made in Egypt. The last tomb that you will see during today's tour, Q66 is located in the Valley of the Queens and it belonged to Nefertari Merytmot, meaning "Beautiful Companion, Beloved of Mut". She was the beloved Great Royal Wife of Ramesses II, one of the best known of all the Egyptian queens, next to Cleopatra, Nefertiti, and Hatshepsut. Her tomb is the largest, most lavishly decorated, and spectacular in the Valley of the Queens.

This road was used once a year during the Opet festival when the Egyptians would parade down the avenue carrying the statues of Amun and Mut in a symbolic re-enactment of their marriage. Around 1,350 sphinx statues are thought to have lined this road together with chapels stocked with offerings. The construction of the Avenue of Sphinxes commenced during the New Kingdom and was completed during the 30th Dynasty rule of Nectanebo I. Private Tour with Car: Luxor to Aswan with Edfu and Kom Ombo Temples Visit

- Meeting Time: 8:00AM
- Meeting Point: Sofitel Winter Palace Luxor

Description: Today's transfer to Aswan will be an exciting journey through Egypt's glorious past with visits to Edfu and the Temple of Kom Ombo. The city of Edfu houses the Ptolemaic Temple of Horus, built over two thousand years. The inner walls of the building tell the mysterious story of Horus coming into existence. Horus was born upon his father's death, Osiris, the god of the underworld - killed by his brother, Seth. The Temple of Edfu was abandoned as a religious monument following Theodosius I's edict, banning non-Christian worship within the Roman Empire. Many of the temple's carved reliefs were destroyed in the process. The blackened ceiling of the hypostyle hall, visible today, is believed to be the result of arson intended to destroy religious imagery considered pagan. The unique Temple of Kom Ombo will be your next destination. As you walk through the temple complex, take notice of the courts, halls, sanctuaries, and rooms which are duplicated for two sets of gods. The southern half of the temple was dedicated to the crocodile god Sobek, god of fertility and creator of the world. Meanwhile, the northern part of the temple was dedicated to the falcon god Haroeris, also known as Horus the Elder. A few of the three hundred crocodile mummies discovered in the vicinity are displayed in The Crocodile Museum. Make sure to visit the strange instruments resembling surgical tools, located in the complex's southeast corner!
